

Nicole P. Bettencourt, Au.D.,CCC-A

Education

March 2005-Au.D., Arizona School of Health Sciences
A.T. Still University of Health Sciences, Mesa, Arizona
GPA 4.0

May 1995-M.A. Audiology, Childhood Hearing Impairment Program
The University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut
GPA 3.85

May 1993-B.S. Communication Disorders
The University of New Hampshire, Durham, New Hampshire
GPA 3.51

Professional Experience

December 2006 to Present

Audiology and Hearing Center at Concord Otolaryngology/Alliance Audiology, Concord, NH

Clinical Audiologist: Perform diagnostic testing and rehabilitative services to population of all ages. Testing to include air/bone conduction, speech testing, immittance testing, otoacoustic emissions, real-ear, and functional gain testing. Dispense a variety of hearing aid technologies to include analog, programmable, and digital. Evaluate amplification and perform in-house repairs when appropriate. Provide counseling and support to people with hearing impairment and their families.

August 1998-2006

The Better Hearing Center, Concord, NH

Clinical Audiologist: Perform diagnostic testing and rehabilitative services to population of all ages. Testing to include air/bone conduction, speech testing, immittance testing, otoacoustic emissions, real-ear, and functional gain testing. Dispense a variety of hearing aid technologies to include analog, programmable, and digital. Evaluate amplification and perform in-house repairs when appropriate. Provide counseling and support to people with hearing impairment and their families.

July 1999-August 2000

Easter Seals, Inc., Manchester, NH

Clinical Audiologist: Perform diagnostic testing and rehabilitative services to veterans. Services included basic audiometric testing and dispensing/evaluating amplification.

April 1996-July 1998

Head and Neck Specialty Group of New Hampshire, Somersworth, NH

Clinical Audiologist: Provide diagnostic and rehabilitative services to children and adults exhibiting hearing impairment. Services include ABR testing, vestibular testing, evaluation of CAPDs, dispensing and evaluating amplification and rehabilitation for patients and their families.

September 1993-May 1995

The University of Connecticut Childhood Hearing Impairment Program, Storrs, CT

Graduate Assistant (10-20 hours per week): Perform various clerical duties and completing special projects related specifically to the Childhood Hearing Impairment Program.

Practicum Experience

January 1995-May 1995

Peak Rehabilitation, Worcester, MA

Administered diagnostic and rehabilitative services to all population. Duties included, but were not limited to, report writing, dispensing and repairing amplification devices, evaluation of CAPDs and providing aural rehabilitation for patients and their families.

September 1994-December 1994

The Weldon Center for Rehabilitation at Mercy Hospital, Springfield, MA

Administered diagnostic and treatment services primarily to adults with hearing impairment. Services included industrial screening, dispensing and evaluating amplification and assistive listening devices, counseling patients and their families, Real-ear measurement and site of lesion testing.

June 1994-August 1994

Hear for Life, Peggy Sheets, Inc., Nashua, NH

Provided services to the adult population in a private practice setting. Performed diagnostic testing, dispensed and evaluated hearing aids to include programables and CICs and provided rehabilitation to patients and their families. Home visits and nursing home consults were also provided.

September 1993-May 1995 (School terms)

University of Connecticut Speech and Hearing Clinic, Storrs, CT

Administered diagnostic and rehabilitative services to all populations to include basic audiometric testing, immittance testing, Real-ear measurement, evaluating and dispensing amplification, providing counseling services and developing and executing aural rehabilitation lesson plans with children of all ages.

Organizations

American Speech-Language Hearing Association (ASHA)
New Hampshire Academy of Audiology

Honors and Awards

Graduated Magna Cum Laude from the University of New Hampshire 1993
Coach's Award in Varsity Volleyball 1989